

Dear "Hiring Manager",

I'd like to take a second to make you aware of the CFA Society of Los Angeles' Job Board and Resume Bank. The CFALA membership is a group of over 2,000 investment and finance professionals in our area, most of whom have passed the CFA exam or are active candidates. It will likely save you time with future candidate searches to use the CFALA Job Board and Resume Bank because the applicant pool is so targeted. The service is also free for employers. If you'd like to check it out and make a bookmark for future use, here is the link to their site:

Thanks.
