Sponsorship provides an excellent way to spotlight your company to current and potential clients. As a sponsor you will receive the benefits described below and recognition as a unique member of a special community.

Additionally, you will be supporting a worthy charitable cause. The Chartered Financial Analysts Society of Los Angeles (CFALA) will donate up to 25% of the net proceeds of the Event Sponsor, Platinum and Gold categories towards its Investment Literacy Program. CFALA has engaged the California Council on Economic Education (CCEE) to help implement its Investment Literacy vision. For those so inclined, CFALA can arrange for a tax deductible contribution directly to the CCEE, a 501 (c) (3) charitable organization. Please ask about the Diamond Direct donation.

FUNDRAISING FOR CFALA INVESTMENT LITERACY PROGRAM 2010

The CFA Society of Los Angeles (CFALA) is an organization of more than 2000 financial professionals, most who have earned or are in the process of earning the Chartered Financial Analyst designation CFA. CFALA is especially focused on promoting the importance of sound investment knowledge that leads to informed investment decisions. What better way to achieve this goal then to start with the education system?

For the sixth consecutive year, CFALA will sponsor The Los Angeles Capital Markets Contest that is conducted by the CCEE. This program consists of a competition at high schools in the greater Los Angeles metropolitan area. Teachers are recruited to assemble teams of four students each. The competition takes place over a ten-week period and incorporates a stock market simulation game in which teams invest a hypothetical $100,000 in stocks and mutual funds. The contest combines the excitement of an athletic competition and the pride of academic achievement. Several analytical and mentoring elements help students develop the analytical tools essential to a long run perspective on financial investment. CFALA members volunteer as mentors and advisors.

Students are required to prepare a team essay using changes in economic indicators to describe the state of the economy during the period of the contest. A focus on changes in such indicators as CPI, durable goods orders and employment might be incorporated, as well as a commentary on the influence of any political or social events on the markets during the ten-week period. This is followed by an oral presentation to a grading panel and a round of questioning from a panel of judges, including members of CFALA. Pre- and post-tests on financial markets and economic indicators are administered and results are used to help identify the finalists.

Top teams and their teachers are awarded trophies and financial prizes. A trip to New York City and the New York Stock Exchange has been awarded to the first place team in the past.

The Capital Markets Contest is a motivating approach to learn about the American economic system and financial markets. Teacher recruitment emphasizes districts and schools that serve minority and lower socio-economic communities. For some students, this is their first exposure to a world outside of their neighborhood and their perceived limitations. The program often helps students to see their potential in a much wider arena.
